Dear Admissions Committee,

Brian Williams has worked at David Baker + Associates from the spring of 1990 until the present time. As an intern architectural designer he has been a productive and enthusiastic employee. However there is much more to Buddy than his value to my firm in the day to day practice of architecture. To find satisfaction as an architect, particularly during these economic times, you have to have a passion for it. Buddy is one of the lucky people who loves design and architecture, which gives him a vocation rather than a career. It has been a privilege having Buddy here, and I feel I have learned as much from his fresh approach to design as I have been able to teach.

I highly recommend Buddy for acceptance and believe he will be an ideal and successful candidate for graduate study.

Thank you,

David Baker AIA
